What are the opportunities to learn foreign languages today? breadth and language learning by President Shavkat Mirziyoyev It's no secret that attention is huge. The world if we compare with the data on the world today more than 60 percent of the population can speak 2 or more languages. In the context of globalization, "linguistic capital" or, more precisely, attention to personnel who have excellent command of foreign languages, especially English is felt. This, in turn, indicates that the number of speakers of foreign languages is increasing year by year. These foreign languages One of the main problems that learners face is a particular language Although he knows well, he cannot speak fluently. Let's say you too in one day You can spend hours reading articles in English, listening to audios or new you can memorize the words, but no matter how hard you try Is there any growth or change?

So, this article is about the development of speaking and a word about how to effectively increase it using methods is held. Let's say you or a close friend have been learning English since they were young he started to learn, however, still boldly and fluently in this language cannot speak. Or even if you have been attending language courses for a long time, Even if you memorize texts on different topics, the result is not high. In English a 3-4 year old child speaks his mother tongue rather than your speaking level better. Because he uses only this language in his daily life: a lot speaks, listens a lot. But you yourself are for Speaking how much time do you spend Almost nothing?! Speaking for this What are the ways to increase?

We list the following styles:

- only speak English with your friends
- join conversation clubs
- find an English-speaking interlocutor through Skype

- talking to the mirror
- communicating with tourists as native speakers
- shadowing style

Language is used as a constant means of communication and it is everyday occurs verbally in conversation. For example, correspondence with friends, SMS messages with close people and daily communication it is more effective if it is conducted in this language. Now every styles Let's talk about:

ENGLISH CONVERSATION CLUB - Almost every study nowadays There are many language clubs, whether in your country or in educational centers organized. Discussions among club members on various topics, conversations can be made. It is a topic that is revealed by participating in it opinions can be expressed. This is a great opportunity!

SKYPE FOR ENGLISH - This is also one of the effective methods. It is different to make friends from representatives of the nation, to be in a position to exchange information At the same time, it will be possible to expand the worldview. This any person, depending on their age and language level, can visit the program by SKYPE it will be possible to send a survey.

TALK IN THE MIRROR - If not so much from the internet if not used, then this method is very useful. Look in the mirror depending on a specific topic: whether it's interesting events or a favorite activity or you can talk about future plans for 5-10 minutes.

SHADOWING - As you can see from the translation, SHADOWING is a shadow means In this style, the speech of native speakers is exactly copy paste i.e. the voice tone and pronunciation are all repeated in the same form. It is also about learning English in a natural environment let's stop. For example, Daniel is about 8-9 years old, of Russian nationality child, a resident of Norway. Outside of school he posters written in Norwegian and English face the signs of the year. Or various professions that speak this language when they become shops, amusement parks talks to representatives. Most importantly, the process of expression is in practice is used, experienced in live communication. And there is another noteworthy aspect that is, a personal initiative is shown to express a certain opinion.

Zaynura is a 10-12-year-old girl from Samarkand, Samarkand region lives in the city. English at their school lasts 45 minutes. In addition, the girl learns this language from her parents and from her teacher learns and learns to get good grades and be motivated.

In this case, it uses only limited word resources and can make simple simple sentences. It follows that, firstly, 1- there is unlimited time in the situation, secondly, live speech communication, thirdly, English communication is tested live and attention is paid to the content, not the form. In case 2, no there is not enough time, nor is there a community of people who speak this language, all processes are mastered in an artificial environment. And the saddest thing is in a foreign language there is no reason to communicate! Limited methodology tutorials!

So, using these methods effectively, not only Speaking to increase the level, but also to demonstrate in front of the public, the audience, fluently, without stopping makes it possible to speak.
