

HOW TO TEACH ENGLISH YOUNG

N. Ochilova

SamSIFL

Do'stmurodova Muazzam Bahodir qizi

Student of SamSIFL, Faculty of English II

Abstract: Teaching language to historic learners is different from teaching language to youthful learners. Young learners have certain characteristics which are different from historical learners so these influence their acquiring a foreign language. Teaching foreign places language is accessible if we understand the insurance policies well. The rules are understanding characteristics of our students, mastering some suitable methods, and choosing suitable material. Young learners have certain characteristic distinguishing to the older learners. Related to the certain characteristics, the teacher ought to understand to differentiate the method they use in teaching English as a foreign language to the young learners. To empower the teaching, the teacher want to master the material well.

Key Words. Teaching English, Teaching learners, young learners, language, listening skills, speaking skill, writing skill, teacher education, teachereducator, creative teacher talk.

This article explores the demanding and complex nature of teaching English to young learners. The article begins with the challenges of the early childhood classroom, then goes on to say that underestimating language teaching in elementary education can seriously affect the confidence and effectiveness of primary teachers. It is a common question that English for young learners is a simple problem that does no longer require advanced language workable or in-depth knowledge of educational abilities and pedagogy. In this article, the role of children's literature in teacher training is highlighted and the relevance of immoderate quality linguistic enter is discussed. In addition, the availability of in-service and targeted teachers, as well as teacher trainers with the required expertise, will be discussed. Finally, the role of the teacher in providing language abilities to young learners through creative storytelling and teacher conversation is explored. How To Teach English, Teaching Young Learners. Learning is fun! TEYL Or Teaching English to Young Learners refers to a more specialized area Of teaching English Also, and this is ... students. Younger which deals with. only English s good to speak'important, it Young children who are learning Languages are very proficient at working out what languages people speak and will Switch automatically to what is appropriate. Even though you can additionally additionally understand the Child's mother tongue (MT) and be in a role to respond, unless it's an emergency you should speak definitely in English with the toddler (while at the same time allowing the Child to speak their MT). Teaching English as a second language for beginners is a challenging challenge for anyone. No matter what your background, or experience level, you will encounter constant new challenges when teaching English as a second language. Like teaching other subjects, you'll come during that every student learns differently. At the same time, depending on the primary language of each student, you'll face new challenges unique to that language. However, with some work and knowledge, you'll be able to gain the competencies you need to teach English as a second language to beginners learner. Languages has some competencies to understand, listening skills, speaking skill, reading skill and writing skill. Those advantage have their very very personal characteristics to be understood and to mastered. Mastering all those advantage needs some certain method too and alternatively we can analyze them as step with the useful resource of the usage of way of step. Every language teacher should understand real related to the capabilities when they are teaching language. It influences teaching the language. As a teacher should understand precise which achievable the college college students ought to look up first how to teach every skill and how to the teach genius and what the characters of the language learners. When the teacher understand those well, it will be easy to recognize the learners., to choose the suitable method and to discover the suitable materials . Teaching foreign languages are different from teaching first language, even though some of the orders are same. Before we teach second language of course we have to understand the first language then beforehand than we find out about foreign language we have to understand second language.

REFERENCES:

1. Muñoz, C. & Spada, N. (2019). Foreign language learning from early childhood to young adulthood. In A. De Houwer & L. Ortega (Eds.). The Cambridge Handbook Of Bilingualism. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, pp 233-249.
- 2 Rich, S. (2014). International Perspectives on Teaching English to Young Learners. Basingstoke: Palgrave Macmillan.
- 3 Ortega, L. (2018). What is SLA research good for, anyway? In T. Pattison (Ed.), IATEFL 2018 Brighton Conference Selections. Faversham: IATEFL, pp. 11-21.